VOTE STOOD
9 TO 2 AGAINST
SEATING SENATOR

COMMITTEE DECIDES GOV. SORLIE HAD NO POWER OF APPOINTMENT

LAWS OF NORTH DAKOTA DID NOT LEGALIZE SUCH ACTION

Washington, Dec. 14.—The senate privileges and election committee by a vote of nine to two today voted against seating Sen.-Designate Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota. It will be so recommended to the senate which will finally decide the matter.

The committee decided that Gov. Sorlie had no power to appoint Nye under the laws of the state and instructed a sub-committee to draw a report to the senate setting forth the committee's position. Only two members of the committee voted against the decision.

The sub-committee is composed of Chairman Ernst, republican of Kentucky; Goff, republican, West Virginia; and George, democrat, Georgia. It will report to the senate at noon tomorrow.

The full committee with the exception of Sen. Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, was present when the constitutional question was threshed out in executive session. After an hour of debate upon the report submitted by Goff, former assistant general, who looked into the legal phases of the question and decided Nye's appointment was not legal, a vote was taken.

Despite the injunction of secrecy, it was learned that Senators Smith, democrat, of South Carolina, and Neely, democrat, of West Virginia, were those who cast their votes favorably to Nye.

Those voting against Nye, included: Republicans—Ernst, Watson, Indiana; Shortridge, California; Green, Vermont; Deneen, Illinois; Goff, West Virginia.

Democrats—King, Utah; George, Georgia; Stephens, Mississippi.

FENCE RAIL
NEARLY DECAPITATED
AUTOMOBILE DRIVER

Beloit, Wis., Dec. 14.—(UP)—The body of a man identified as F. D. U. Schneider, Monroe, was found in a wrecked automobile on the Rockford highway three miles south of Roscoe early this morning.

Schneider's head was nearly cut off when a two by four crashed through the front of the car as it left the road and plowed through a fence.

Accidentally Killed in Christmas Tree Hunt

Duluth, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Alfred W. Johnson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, was killed accidentally while attempting to find a Christmas tree for his family.

Taking a hand axe, sled and rifle Johnson set out yesterday afternoon. He had intended to use the gun to shoot any rabbits he might come upon in his quest for a tree.

The youth stumbled while stepping to the edge of the road to allow an automobile to pass and accidentally discharged the rifle. The bullet struck him in the head. The wound was fatal.

Victim of Shooting Is Identified by Father

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 14.—(UP)—The body of the woman shot to death in a hotel apartment here last week by Hardy Bryan, railroad division engineer who committed suicide following her slaying was identified today by E. E. Whiting, Henning, Minn., as his daughter.

The aged father said as far as he knew she was still the wife of Edward McDonald, Kansas City, Mo., whom she married last year. Friends here believed she was Bryan's bride of two months.

Whiting, broken by the shock of his daughter's death, told authorities she had been left motherless when 15 years old. He had tried to keep her at his farm home but she would not be dissuaded from a stage career. She had played a number of theatre engagements.

Last summer Evelyn had visited at home, Whiting said. She left on Oct. 25. A few days later she is said to have married Bryan.

4 NEW CARDINALS

By THOMAS B. MORGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Rome, Dec. 14.—Surrounded with all the splendor of the papal court in the presence of the sacred college of cardinals, His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, held a secret consistory today and nominated four new cardinals of the Holy Roman church. After the nomination of the new cardinals, the Holy Father delivered an allocution.

The new cardinals were Bonaventura Cerretti, papal nuncio to France; Patrick O'Donnell, archbishop of Armagh, Ireland; Enrico Gasparri, papal nuncio to Brazil, and Alessandro Verde, secretary of the congregation of rites.

ASSERTS THAT
AIR STATUS
IS ALARMING

THAT UNITED STATES RANKS ONLY THIRD IN AIR STRENGTH

HOUSE AIRCRAFT COMMITTEE MAKES FINAL REPORT TODAY

Washington, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Asserting that the air situation is alarming and that the United States ranks not higher than third in air strength among the powers of the world, the house aircraft committee in its final report today recommends a broad re-organization of national defense and close-knit program of co-operation between government and civilian aviation for greater progress.

The report differs sharply from that of the Morrow board which regarded the present national defense organization basically adequate and needing only minor improvements.

The house committee proposes the creation of a department of national defense because "through its unity of command, it would harmonize our system, reduce expenditures for supplies, lessen friction between our different military arms, promote understanding and provide a uniform and equalized system of pay, promotion and retirement."

With the Morrow board and house committee reports before it for consideration, congress now has the material in hand for a thorough study of the air question. As soon as pending matters like the tax bill and the world court are out of the way, it is probable that air matters will be brought to the fore.

BLOODHOUNDS
ON THE TRAIL OF
POLICE SLAYER

FIGHT OCCURRED IN TAVERN NEAR RIVER FOREST, ILLINOIS

GUNS BLAZED AND HAIL OF BULLETS TOOK ITS TOLL

River Forest, Ill., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Bloodhounds today ranged the countryside in search of William J. White, ex-convict, who was wounded last night in a battle in which a fellow ex-convict and a policeman were killed. The fight occurred in a tavern near here when two patrolmen tried to arrest White and Jas. Johnstone.

The officers, Edward Pfau and James McBride, ordered the pair to surrender. The answer was a blaze of bullets and Pfau fell mortally wounded. McBride sent a bullet crashing into Johnstone's head. A bullet from White's revolver grazed McBride's head just as the latter sent a bullet into the ex-convict's arm.

White ran out and escaped. Pfau died four hours later.

The two bandits have been sought since the robbing of the McHenry, Ill., bank of $18,775 on October 24.

GREECE MUST PAY BULGARIA
AN INDEMNITY

LEAGUE OF NATIONS SETS IT AT QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS

FINDINGS ARE ACCEPTED BY THE TWO NATIONS

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Dec. 14.—The League of Nations council today adopted the Rumboldt commission report ordering Greece to pay Bulgaria about a quarter of a million dollars material, moral and actual damages as a result of the recent Greco-Bulgarian hostilities.

Thereupon, the Bulgarian foreign minister, Kalkoff, accepted the council verdict on behalf of his nation, while the Greek Foreign Minister Rentis merely thanked the council.

(Rentis' thanks for the verdict against his nation are presumably to be taken as Greek acceptance of the findings since an Athens dispatch today declared that the Greek government had instructed him to accept unconditionally.)

The council approved the commission finding that the Greek invasion was unjustified and requested Sweden to furnish officers for a conciliation commission including Greeks and Bulgarians to endeavor to settle all future frontier incidents.

Meantime, the League council is awaiting more or less tensely the decision in the Mosul dispute between Britain and Turkey which should be made within 24 hours.

The League is giving thought to possible consequences but is inclined to doubt that Turkey will stir up war over the matter.

213,000 CASES
GOOD LIQUOR
WERE SEIZED

COAST GUARD DRY NAVY ACTIVE DURING FISCAL YEAR

GUARD ALSO SAVED 2,484 PERSONS FROM THE SEA

Washington, Dec. 14.—(UP)—More than 213,000 cases of genuine liquor intended for thirsty Americans were seized by the coast guard dry navy during the fiscal year ended June 30, Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the guard announced in his annual report today.

In protecting maritime life and property the guard saved 2,484 persons from the sea, assisted 15,565 persons in distress aboard vessels that appealed for aid, and cared for 510 persons in distress.

Ten guardsmen lost their lives in the line of duty during the year, Billard said. The majority of the casualties were caused by men being washed overboard from small boats and gasoline explosions on small launches.

For violating strict disciplinary measures of the service, 1,453 seamen of the 9,000 in the organization were court martialed during the 12 months period. The majority of the men were arrested for minor offenses.

SIX FAMILIES
FLEE FLAMES

ESCAPE IN NIGHT CLOTHING FROM ORANGEVILLE, ILL., FIRE

Orangeville, Ill., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Six families fled in their night clothing from living apartments in the Henry W. Wagner building when fire attacked the three-story brick structure, largest in this village, early Sunday.

Flames swept through the building leaving nothing but the walls. A hardware store, a general merchandise store, restaurant and a bank occupied the ground floor, the upper floors being used as offices and living apartments.

The telephone exchange was situated on the second floor and its destruction made it necessary for a lineman to climb a pole outside the village and in that way get messages for help through to Freeport and to Monroe, Wis. Both cities sent fire fighters to reinforce the local volunteers in battling the flames.

65 YEAR OLD
MARSHALL FACES
BANDIT GANG

LOGAN, IOWA, MAN COMES UPON THEM CUTTING TELEPHONE WIRES

ROBBERS GET NO LOOT, BUT SHOOT UP THE WHOLE TOWN

Logan, Iowa, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Bravery of Night Marshal John R. Armstrong, 65, early today saved the bank here from being looted by a gang of armed bandits who terrorized the town.

Armstrong, accompanied by his faithful dog, came upon three of the men engaged in cutting telephone wires leading out of Logan at 3 A. M. He approached the men and was ordered to throw up his hands. Instead, the marshal reached for his revolver.

One of the bandits fired with a sawed-off shotgun, the charge shattering Armstrong's leg so badly that it will have to be amputated.

Mrs. Joe Copeland, 75, was aroused by the shot and switched on the lights in her room. The robbers shot out the light with the shotguns. Mrs. Copeland fell over in fright and fractured a rib.

Previous to this the bandits had held up the night telephone operator and made her divulge the location of all wires leading into the town. They had cut every one of them with the exception of one railroad wire leading into Council Bluffs.

After shooting Armstrong the bandits fled, "shooting up" the town as they retreated. Every time a light appeared in a window they would shoot it out. They left in the direction of Council Bluffs.

Alarm was spread over the railroad wire after almost an hour's delay and all roads were guarded, but no trace of the men has been found. Sheriff Millman is of the belief that the three men constituted only a part of the gang. He believes it contained eight or ten members.

EX-BOOTLEG
KING TO BE
STAR WITNESS

GOVERNMENT STARTS TRIAL OF 35 CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

CHARGED WITH SUBSTITUTING WATER FOR WHISKEY IN DISTILLERY

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14.—(UP)—With George Remus of Cincinnati, ex-bootleg king, as its star witness, the government today began its efforts to convict 35 men charged with conspiracy in the Jack Daniel liquor case. The majority of the men under indictment are residents of St. Louis and Tennessee.

Charges brought against the men by a federal grand jury center around the substitution of water for whiskey in barrels at the Jack Daniel distillery in St. Louis.

Thirty-nine persons were indicted by the grand jury but four of these are unable to appear for trial at this time.

Fred Essen, St. Louis politician, is ill, while H. L. Dahlman, T. A. Hefferan and Lem Motlow were operated at a hearing before a United States commissioner in Nashville, Tenn., recently but may be forced to face the charges later.

Remus, who testified before the grand jury which brought the charges, was not indicted but his estranged wife, Mrs. Imogene Remus is involved.

PINCHOT TO CALL
SPECIAL SESSION
OF LEGISLATURE

ATTEMPTS TO FORCE SETTLEMENT OF ANTHRACITE COAL MINE STRIKE

POSSIBILITY OF DECLARING THE MINES A "PUBLIC NECESSITY"

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania today planned to take the first step towards forcing settlement of the anthracite coal mine strike by formally signing a call for a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature to consider the situation.

Possibility of declaring the mines a "public necessity" and bringing them under public utility regulations was considered in connection with the plans for meeting the coal strike situation.

Declaration by the legislature of the anthracite "monopoly" to be a public utility, will, the governor believes, "supply some degree of public control where none exists today; will furnish information never before revealed and will exert the most powerful influence the public can supply toward the settlement of the strike."

Uninterrupted prosperity for the inhabitants of the mining region and uninterrupted supply of anthracite "for the fifty million users of the fuel" is also seen by the governor as a result of state regulation of the industry as recommended by him at the conference of operators.

The legislature will also be asked to authorize compact with any or all other anthracite consuming states for the regulation of producing, preparing, selling and distribution of anthracite through an interstate commission or otherwise.

TRIPLE SLAYER
CONFESSES KILLING
THREE RELATIONS

STEPSON, WIFE AND MOTHER-IN-LAW VICTIMS OF F. M. SNOW

TEXAS MAN CLAIMS HE WAS MAD WHEN HE DID IT

Stephensville, Texas, Dec. 14.—Inquiry into the triple slaying and cremation of the bodies of his stepson, wife and mother-in-law, confessed by F. M. Snow, 47, was under way today by the county grand jury.

A coroner has already returned a verdict that the deaths were "due to gunshot wounds inflicted by a rifle in the hands of F. M. Snow."

"I'm a mad man," Snow said in the Tarrant county jail where he was taken for safe keeping. Snow declared that madness was responsible for the decapitation of his stepson, Bernie Connally, 19, whose head was found in a lonely farm house last Wednesday. Identification of the head led to the arrest of Snow and the discovery that his wife, Mrs. F. M. Snow, and her mother, Mrs. S. A. Old, were missing. Snow said he killed the boy and later murdered his wife and mother-in-law.

"BISHOP OF

JOHN CALLAHAN PREACHES TO BIG CROWDS IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Dec. 14.—(UP)—The same little mission house that 35 years ago gave shelter to a bedraggled down-and-outer was today but a fraction large enough to accommodate the crowd bent on hearing the same man preach.

John Callahan, "Bishop of the Bowery," is back here observing the thirty-fifth anniversary of his conversion. He will preach at mission houses here all this week, then return to New York to resume his duties as chaplain of the famous Tombs prison where he was once an inmate.

It was a cold night that Callahan, bartender and criminal, was ordered by Minneapolis police to leave town. In desperation he sought shelter in a mission house. He was converted. Yesterday Callahan told thousands of Minneapolis persons the story of his life—turned from prison record

GRADE CROSSING
ACCIDENT CARRIES
TOLL OF 1 DEATH

Pewaukee, Wis., Dec. 14.—(UP)—One man was killed and two others badly cut and bruised when a Milwaukee road train crashed into the automobile in which they were riding at a grade crossing near here.

Frank H. O'Connell, 28, Milwaukee, was killed when he was thrown beneath the wreckage of the car, while G. L. Tronvig and Robert E. Gauthier, also of Milwaukee and riding in the car with him, were thrown free of the wreckage, but were not seriously hurt.

Coroner F. J. Woodhead of Waukesha county took charge of the body and is conducting an investigation.

APPEAL TO COOLIDGE TO SAVE THEIR SON

IF UNSUCCESSFUL, RALPH W. SEYBOLT WILL FACE FIRING SQUAD

SENTENCE OF DEATH PASSED 5 TIMES, AND EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY OBTAINED

Defiance, Ohio, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Christ Seybolt today appealed to President Coolidge to intervene in behalf of their son, Ralph W. Seybolt, who will face a firing squad in Salt Lake City, Utah, in June, for the murder of Patrolman David H. Crowther.

A second appeal was transmitted to Congressman Charles J. Thompson who was asked to supplement the plea with personal representations to the president.

The patrolman was slain in 1923. Sentence of death has been passed on Seybolt five times, but each time executive clemency has held execution in abeyance.

When sentence was passed for the sixth time a few days ago, Seybolt was given the choice of dying by hanging or facing a firing squad. He chose the latter.

Seybolt, according to his brother, Carl, here, was attending a party with two companions who were stationed at Salt Lake army post with Seybolt when the murder occurred. The party became boisterous and Crowther intervened. An argument and scuffle ensued in which Crowther was said to have drawn a gun. The weapon was discharged and Crowther was killed. Seybolt at his trial contended the shooting was accidental.

VON HINDENBURG
SEEKS A CABINET
MADE BY KOCH

LATTER IS TO FOLLOW THE LUTHER CABINET, RESIGNED

SO-CALLED "BIG COALITION" IS THE METHOD SOUGHT

Berlin, Dec. 14.—President Von Hindenburg today requested former Interior Minister Koch, democrat, to attempt formation of a cabinet to succeed the Luther cabinet, resigned. Koch accepted the mandate and set about trying to gather a so-called "big coalition," including Foreign Minister Stresemann's Folksparty, the Centrist (Catholic) democratic and socialist parties. His chances of success, however, were deemed extremely slight.

Developments the past week made it appear inadvisable to follow out the original plan of asking Chancellor Luther to undertake the rebuilding, but it is possible that Hindenburg eventually will revert to this plan.

Real Estate Board Revokes Licenses

Madison, Wis., Dec. 14.—(UP)—The Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' board has served an order revoking the license of C. Wesley Grages, Marinette, Wis., to do a real estate brokerage business. HENRY JESKE,
WIFE AND SMALL
SON ARE KILLED

TRIPLE TRAGEDY OCCURRED NEAR BATAVIA, ILLINOIS

HOME WAS THEN RANSACKED, BUT LITTLE OF VALUE TAKEN

Batavia, Ill., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Two maniacal burglars were sought today by police for the murder of Henry Jeske, bank cashier, his wife and their five year old son Ralph at the Jeske farm near here early Sunday.

Jeske and Ralph were shot through the head on the path leading to the house and Mrs. Jeske was shot to death as she entered the house.

Her clothing was torn, indicating an attempted attack, police said.

Several hours after the triple murder two men were seen to abandon the bloodstained Jeske automobile near West Chicago, about three miles from the farm.

During the last few months 26 robberies took place in Kane and Dupage counties and police believe the slayers of the Jeske family are the men who committed the burglaries.

The killings occurred just as the Jeskes returned from a visit to town. Police believe one of the burglars was inside and the other stood guard on the outside. Mrs. Jeske entered the house and was shot down. The man outside shot Jeske and the little boy as they started toward the house, it was indicated.

The house was then ransacked but little of value was taken.

Harold Hall, hired hand of the Jeske farm, discovered the bodies when he returned to the farm. Hall was questioned and cleared of any connection with the affair.

Police also are working on the theory that enemies of the family committed the murders.

Swarthmore, Pa., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Successful candidates for the 32 Rhodes scholarships to Oxford University from as many states throughout the Union were announced here by Dr. Frank Aydelotte, American secretary for the Rhodes trustees.

The Rhodes will provide for the continued attendance of two students from every state, their election to the scholarship to be based on scholastic excellence, character and physical attainments. There are 32 scholars annually elected, subject to approval of the Rhodes trustees.

Following, in part, is the list of scholars-elect:
Illinois—Gordon Coleman Woodbury, Evanston, Ill., Northwestern University.

Indiana—Ernest Russell Boller, LaFayette, Ind., Purdue University.

Kentucky—Roscoe Cross, Lexington, Ky., University of Kentucky.

North Dakota—Robert N. Cunningham, Mercersburg, Pa., Princeton University.

Ohio—George R. Pfann, Ithaca, N. Y., Cornell University.

A candidate can enter the competition or receive appointment either from the state in which he lives or from a state where he received two years of his college education.

3 MEN HURT ESCAPING FROM SUPPOSED WRECK

St. Paul, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Three trainmen injured while jumping to escape a wreck that never occurred were reported out of danger at a hospital here today.

They are: Charles Shanks, engineer; Joe Brady, fireman, and Leonard Asper, brakeman. All are from Manley, Ia.

When the lights of an oncoming helper engine flashed on and off at a grade south of here, the freight crew, thinking the locomotive was close upon them and collision unavoidable, jumped for their lives.

The locomotives stopped 40 rods apart.

THEM CUTTING TELEPHONE
WIRES

ROBBERS GET NO LOOT, BUT SHOOT UP THE WHOLE
TOWN

Logan, Iowa, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Bravery of Night Marshal John R. Armstrong, 65, early today saved the bank here from being looted by a gang of armed bandits who terrorized the town.

Armstrong, accompanied by his faithful dog, came upon three of the men engaged in cutting telephone wires leading out of Logan at 3 A. M. He approached the men and was ordered to throw up his hands. Instead, the marshal reached for his revolver.

One of the bandits fired with a sawed-off shotgun, the charge shattering Armstrong's leg so badly that it will have to be amputated.

Mrs. Joe Copeland, 75, was aroused by the shot and switched on the lights in her room. The robbers shot out the light with the shotguns. Mrs. Copeland fell over in fright and fractured a rib.

Previous to this the bandits had held up the night telephone operator and made her divulge the location of all wires leading into the town. They had cut every one of them with the exception of one railroad wire leading into Council Bluffs.

After shooting Armstrong the bandits fled, "shooting up" the town as they retreated. Every time a light appeared in a window they would shoot it out. They left in the direction of Council Bluffs.

Alarm was spread over the railroad wire after almost an hour's delay and all roads were guarded, but no trace of the men has been found. Sheriff Millman is of the belief that the three men constituted only a part of the gang. He believes it contained eight or ten members.

EX-BOOTLEG KING TO BE STAR WITNESS

GOVERNMENT STARTS TRIAL OF 35 CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

CHARGED WITH SUBSTITUTING
WATER FOR WHISKEY IN DISTILLERY

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14.—(UP)—With George Remus of Cincinnati, ex-bootleg king, as its star witness, the government today began its efforts to convict 35 men charged with conspiracy in the Jack Daniel liquor case. The majority of the men under indictment are residents of St. Louis and Tennessee.

Charges brought against the men by a federal grand jury center around the substitution of water for whiskey in barrels at the Jack Daniel distillery in St. Louis.

Thirty-nine persons were indicted by the grand jury but four of these are unable to appear for trial at this time.

Fred Essen, St. Louis politician, is ill, while H. L. Dahlman, T. A. Heffernan and Lem Motlow were exonerated at a hearing before a United States commissioner in Nashville, Tenn., recently but may be forced to face the charges later.

Remus, who testified before the grand jury which brought the charges, was not indicted but his estranged wife, Mrs. Imogene Remus is involved.

PINCHOT TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

ATTEMPTS TO FORCE SETTLE-MENT OF ANTHRACITE COAL
MINE STRIKE

POSSIBILITY OF DECLARING THE MINES A "PUBLIC NECESSITY"

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania today planned to take the first step towards forcing settlement of the anthracite coal mine strike by formally signing a call for a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature to consider the situation.

Possibility of declaring the mines a "public necessity" and bringing them under public utility regulations was considered in connection with the plans for meeting the coal strike situation.

Declaration by the legislature of the anthracite "monopoly" to be a public utility, will, the governor believes, "supply some degree of public control where none exists today; will furnish information never before revealed and will exert the most powerful influence the public can supply toward the settlement of the strike."

Uninterrupted prosperity for the inhabitants of the mining region and uninterrupted supply of anthracite "for the fifty million users of the fuel" is also seen by the governor as a result of state regulation of the industry as recommended by him at the conference of operators.

The legislature will also be asked to authorize compact with any or all other anthracite consuming states for the regulation of production, preparing, selling and distribution of anthracite through an interstate commission or otherwise.

TRIPLE SLAYER CONFESSES KILLING THREE RELATIONS

STEPSON, WIFE AND MOTHER-
IN-LAW VICTIMS OF F. M.
SNOW

TEXAS MAN CLAIMS HE WAS MAD WHEN HE DID IT

Stephensville, Texas, Dec. 14.—Inquiry into the triple slaying and cremation of the bodies of his stepson, wife and mother-in-law, confessed by F. M. Snow, 47, was under way today by the country grand jury.

A coroner has already returned a verdict that the deaths were "due to gunshot wounds inflicted by a rifle in the hands of F. M. Snow."

"I'm a mad man," Snow said in the Tarrant county jail where he was taken for safe keeping.

Snow declared that madness was responsible for the decapitation of his stepson, Bernie Connolly, 19, whose head was found in a lonely farm house last Wednesday. Identification of the head led to the arrest of Snow and the discovery that his wife, Mrs. F. M. Snow, and her mother, Mrs. S. A. Old, were missing. Snow said he killed the boy and later murdered his wife and mother-in-law.

"BISHOP OF BOWERY" IS BACK

JOHN CALLAHAN PREACHES TO BIG CROWDS IN MIN-NEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Dec. 14.—(UP)—The same little mission house that 35 years ago gave shelter to a bedraggled down-and-outer was today but a fraction large enough to accommodate the crowd bent on hearing the same man preach.

John Callahan, "Bishop of the Bowery," is back here observing the thirty-fifth anniversary of his conversion. He will preach at mission houses here all this week, then return to New York to resume his duties as chaplain of the famous Tombs prison where he was once an inmate.

It was a cold night that Callahan, bartender and criminal, was ordered by Minneapolis police to leave town. In desperation he sought shelter at a mission house. He was converted. Yesterday Callahan told thousands of Minneapolis persons the story of his life—turned from prison record

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENT CARRIES TOLL OF 1 DEATH

Pewaukee, Wis., Dec. 14.—(UP)—One man was killed and two others badly cut and bruised when a Milwaukee road train crashed into the automobile in which they were riding at a grade crossing near here.

Frank H. O'Connell, 28, Milwaukee, was killed when he was thrown beneath the wreckage of the car, while G. L. Tronvig and Robert E. Gauthier, also of Milwaukee and riding in the car with him, were thrown free of the wreckage, but were not seriously hurt.

Coroner F. J. Woodhead of Waukesha county took charge of the body and is conducting an investigation.

APPEAL TO COOLIDGE TO SAVE THEIR SON

IF UNSUCCESSFUL, RALPH W.
SEYBOLT WILL FACE
FIRING SQUAD

SENTENCE OF DEATH PASSED 5
TIMES, AND EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY OBTAINED

Defiance, Ohio, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Christ Seybolt today appealed to President Coolidge to intervene in behalf of their son, Ralph W. Seybolt, who will face a firing squad in Salt Lake City, Utah, in June, for the murder of Patrolman David H. Crowther.

A second appeal was transmitted to Congressman Charles J. Thompson who was asked to supplement the plea with personal representations to the president.

The patrolman was slain in 1923. Sentence of death has been passed on Seybolt five times, but each time executive clemency has held execution in abeyance.

When sentence was passed for the sixth time a few days ago, Seybolt was given the choice of dying by hanging or facing a firing squad. He chose the latter.

Seybolt, according to his brother, Carl, here, was attending a party with two companions who were stationed at Salt Lake army post with Seybolt when the murder occurred. The party became boisterous and Crowther intervened. An argument and scuffle ensued in which Crowther was said to have drawn a gun. The weapon was discharged and Crowther was killed. Seybolt at his trial contended the shooting was accidental.

VON HINDENBURG SEEKS A CABINET MADE BY KOCH

LATTER IS TO FOLLOW THE
LUTHER CABINET,
RESIGNED

SO-CALLED "BIG COALITION" IS THE METHOD SOUGHT

Berlin, Dec. 14.—President Von Hindenburg today requested Former Interior Minister Koch, democrat, to attempt formation of a cabinet to succeed the Luther cabinet, resigned. Koch accepted the mandate and set about trying to gather a so-called "big coalition," including Foreign Minister Stresemann's Folksparty, the Centrist (Catholic) democratic and socialist parties. His chances of success, however, were deemed extremely slight.

Developments the past week made it appear inadvisable to follow out the original plan of asking Chancellor Luther to undertake the rebuilding, but it is possible that Hindenburg eventually will revert to this plan.

Real Estate Board Revokes Licenses

Madison, Wis., Dec. 14.—(UP)—The Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' board has served an order revoking the license of C. Wesley Grages, Marinette, Wis., to do a real estate brokerage business. The board also denied the applications of Irving J. Jensk, Chicago, and Alfred Richardson, Spring Grove, Ill., for licenses to do business in Wisconsin.

Into respectable biography. "From Prison to Pulpit" was the subject of his sermon at one of the city's largest churches from which more than 1,000 were turned away.

HENRY JESKE, WIFE AND SMALL SON ARE KILLED

TRIPLE TRAGEDY OCCURRED
NEAR BATAVIA,
ILLINOIS

HOME WAS THEN RANSACKED,
BUT LITTLE OF VALUE
TAKEN

Batavia, Ill., Dec. 14.—(UP)—

Two maniacal burglars were sought today by police for the murder of Henry Jeske, bank cashier, his wife and their five year old son Ralph at the Jeske farm near here early Sunday. Jeske and Ralph were shot through the head on the path leading to the house and Mrs. Jeske was shot to death as she entered the house.

Her clothing was torn, indicating an attempted attack, police said. Several hours after the triple murder two men were seen to abandon the bloodstained Jeske automobile near West Chicago, about three miles from the farm.

During the last few months 26 robberies took place in Kane and Dupage counties and police believe the slayers of the Jeske family are the men who committed the robberies.

The killings occurred just as the Jeskes returned from a visit to town. Police believe one of the burglars was inside and the other stood guard on the outside. Mrs. Jeske entered the house and was shot down. The man outside shot Jeske and the little boy as they started toward the house, it was indicated.

The house was then ransacked but little of value was taken.

Harold Hall, hired hand of the Jeske farm, discovered the bodies when he returned to the farm. Hall was questioned and cleared of any connection with the affair.

Police also are working on the theory that enemies of the family committed the murders.

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES

32 RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS TO OXFORD UNIVERSITY ARE MADE PUBLIC

Swarthmore, Pa., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Successful candidates for the 32 Rhodes scholarships to Oxford University from as many states throughout the Union were announced here by Dr. Frank Aydelotte, American secretary for the Rhodes trustees.

The Rhodes will provide for the continued attendance of two students from every state, their election to the scholarship to be based on scholastic excellence, character and physical attainments. There are 32 scholars annually elected, subject to approval of the Rhodes' trustees.

Following, in part, is the list of scholars-elect:

Illinois—Gordon Coleman Woodbury, Evanston, Ill., Northwestern University.

Indiana—Ernest Russell Boller, LaFayette, Ind., Purdue University.

Kentucky—Roscoe Cross, Lexington, Ky., University of Kentucky.

North Dakota—Robert N. Cunningham, Mercersburg, Pa., Princeton University.

Ohio—George R. Pfann, Ithaca, N. Y., Cornell University.

A candidate can enter the competition or receive appointment either from the state in which he lives or from a state where he received two years of his college education.

3 MEN HURT ESCAPING FROM SUPPOSED WRECK

St. Paul, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Three trainmen injured while jumping to escape a wreck that never occurred were reported out of danger at a hospital here today.

They are: Charles Shanks, engineer; Joe Brady, fireman, and Leonard Asper, brakeman. All are from Manly, Ia.

When the lights of an oncoming helper engine flashed on and off at a grade south of here, the freight crew, thinking the locomotive was close upon them and collision unavoidable, jumped for their lives.

The locomotives stopped 40 rods apart.

SALVATION ARMY BUSY

Annual Christmas Boxes to be Prepared For City's Poor

Up to the present time the good people of Brainerd have not heard much of the Salvation Army's annual Christmas baskets. But that does not mean that the Salvation Army has not been busy! Already a goodly number of names of poor families have been obtained whose condition plainly indicate that they are worthy of some Christmas cheer in the form of a good Christmas basket. In some cases there has been long sieges of sickness, in others work has not been obtainable, in still others there are widowed mothers who work hard each day of the year to support their growing families; in others the recipients are old and feeble—sometimes cripples; but in all cases they have been visited, investigated and found worthy of the help we all can supply.

Tomorrow, the local Army workers are intending to place the old iron pot and tripod on the street corner. You will hear the ringing of a bell—and as you pass it, get the Christmas spirit of giving and give as much as you are able. "I will make some person in your own city happy on the joyous Christmas day. So do your part—and do it generous! "Keep The Pot A-Bollin'."

Club Women Sponsor Historical Essay Contest

Mrs. Will Curtis, of St. James, chairman of the department of Applied Education of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, announces that an essay contest in local community history is being conducted among the high school pupils in Minnesota.

The sum of $200 is offered in prizes by the Minnesota Historical society and the State and District Federations of Women's clubs through their department of Applied Education. The state prizes are as follows: First $25, second $15, third $10. The following prizes will be offered in each club district: First $10, second $5.

Contestants may write their essays on one of the three following subjects:

1—The Story of My Grandparents in Minnesota.
2—The Beginnings of My Community.
3—An Old Settler's Story of Pioneer Life in Minnesota.

The rules of the contest are as follows:

1. Any pupil regularly enrolled in any public, private, or parochial high school in Minnesota is eligible to participate in the contest.
2. No person may enter more than one essay.
3. The name of the writer and the name and location of the high school shall be written at the end of the essay. Essays shall not exceed 2,000 words in length.

4. Essays are to be judged upon the basis not only of subject matter, but also of English.
5. All essays submitted must be typewritten, double spaced, on paper 8 1/2 by 11 inches in size.

6. Essays are to be completed and in the hands of the principal of the high school wherein the pupil is enrolled not later than February 1, 1926. The principal shall at once submit all essays to a committee of judges appointed by the president of the county federation of women's clubs or the president of the women's club in the county having charge of the local contest.

In counties where this contest is being conducted the club women can obtain further particulars concerning the handling of the essays after they have been submitted to the judges by writing to Mrs. Will Curtis, St. James, Minn.

SALVATION ARMY BUSY

Annual Christmas Boxes to be Prepared For City's Poor

Up to the present time the good people of Brainerd have not heard much of the Salvation Army's annual Christmas baskets. But that does not mean that the Salvation Army has not been busy! Already a goodly number of names of poor families have been obtained whose condition plainly indicate that they are worthy of some Christmas cheer in the form of a good Christmas basket. In some cases there has been long sieges of sickness, in others work has not been obtainable, in still others there are widowed mothers who work has each day of the year to support their growing families; in others the recipients are old and feeble—sometimes cripples; but in all cases they have been visited, investigated and found worthy of the help we all can supply.

Tomorrow, the local Army workers are intending to place the old iron pot and tripod on the street corner. You will hear the ringing of a bell—and as you pass it, get the Christmas spirit of giving and give as much as you are able. "Twill make some person in your own city happy on the joyous Christmas day. So do your part—and do it generous! "Keep The Pot A-Boilin'."

Club Women Sponsor Historical Essay Contest

Mrs. Will Curtis, of St. James, chairman of the department of Applied Education of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, announces that an essay contest in local community history is being conducted among the high school pupils in Minnesota.

The sum of $200 is offered in prizes by the Minnesota Historical society and the State and District Federations of Women's clubs through their department of Applied Education. The state prizes are as follows: First $25, second $15, third $10. The following prizes will be offered in each club district: First $10, second $5.

Contestants may write their essays on one of the three following subjects:

- 1—The Story of My Grandparents in Minnesota.
- 2—The Beginnings of My Community.
- 3—An Old Settler's Story of Pioneer Life in Minnesota.

The rules of the contest are as follows:
1. Any pupil regularly enrolled in any public, private, or parochial high school in Minnesota is eligible to participate in the contest.
2. No person may enter more than one essay.
3. The name of the writer and the name and location of the high school shall be written at the end of the essay. Essays shall not exceed 2,000 words in length.
4. Essays are to be judged upon the basis not only of subject matter, but also of English.
5. All essays submitted must be typewritten, double spaced, on paper 8 1/2 by 11 inches in size.

6. Essays are to be completed and in the hands of the principal of the high school wherein the pupil is enrolled not later than February 1, 1926. The principal shall at once submit all essays to a committee of judges appointed by the president of the county federation of women's clubs or the president of the women's club in the county having charge of the local contest.

In counties where this contest is being conducted the club women can obtain further particulars concerning the handling of the essays after they have been submitted to the judges by writing to Mrs. Will Curtis, St. James, Minn.

TRAPPER'S BODY FOUND STAKED TO RIVER BED

ARREST OF A DOUGLAS COUNTY, NEBRASKA, MAN IS ORDERED

ED RILEY, 54, OF ONAWA, IOWA,
WAS THE VIC-TIM

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Arrest of a Douglas county, Nebraska, man was ordered today in connection with the murder of Ed Riley, 54, Onawa, Iowa, trapper, whose body was found staked to the bottom of the Little Sioux river near Onawa Sunday.

A coroner's jury returned a secret verdict Sunday ordering the arrest, Sheriff William Hale of Onawa informed Sheriff Endres of Omaha. According to Hale a "party" was staged by Riley when he came back from Sioux City on November 27 after disposing of furs he had trapped. The party was attended by Riley, the Douglas county man and another man and a woman.

Robbery or jealousy or both may have been the motive for the crime, Hale said.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 14.—Dillon Wilcox, Bennington, Neb., farmer, was arrested this afternoon by Douglas county officials and is being held under a charge of assault to commit great bodily injury in connection with the killing of Ed Riley, Onawa, Iowa, trapper whose body was found staked in the Little Sioux River Sunday.

Wilcox admitted to Sheriff Endres that he had trapped with Riley and had spent a week in the latter's tent near Onawa, in the early part of this month. He denies all knowledge of the murder.

LITERARY SECTION TO MEET

Organization of Brainerd Musical Club to be Entertained by the Misses O'Brien

The literary section of the Musical club will meet at the Con O'Brien home at 409 S. Broadway at 7:45 Tuesday evening, as guests of Misses Jule and Mildred O'Brien. Every holder of a Musical club membership ticket is entitled to attend these monthly meetings. There is no formality to be gone through, or no extra fee for membership in this division of the club. It was thought that there might be many women who would like to keep in touch with world events, if they were presented in an interesting, connected, understandable review, who could not take the time to read the papers and magazines very thoroughly.

It was Miss Mary Tornstrom's good fortune, while attending summer school at Chicago university last summer, to hear speakers from many different countries, such as China, Japan, Africa and India. She took voluminous notes on these lectures and is willing to pass them on at these meetings. At this meeting, however, Miss Tornstrom will not be able to present, so a musical program will be substituted. If there is a good program on the air we should be able to get it over the very excellent O'Brien radio. Otherwise, Miss Mildred O'Brien has promised to furnish the musical program.

The review of the most significant world events of the month will be given by Mrs. W. C. Cob.

BOY SCOUT COUNCIL DINNER

J. B. Keller Principal Speaker at Annual Meeting

Held

DEC. 17 AT RANSFORD HOTEL

Annual Report to Show Work Done
And Program For Next
3 Years

At a dinner to be served at the Ransford hotel, Thursday evening, December 17th, at 6:15 o'clock the Crow Wing council Boy Scouts of America will hold their annual meeting. J. B. Keller of Winona, Minn., commissioner of southeastern Minnesota area which includes Winona and Rochester and is comprised of seven counties will be the principal speaker of the evening. He is also a member of the National Council.

Mr. Keller attended the national council meeting during last spring which was held at New York and will no doubt have a great many very interesting things to relate about the work and newer policies of the national council. Mr. Keller has the reputation of being a very fine speaker and always has a lot of enthusiasm and pep to instill which will give those present a vision of scouting in a national way. The area that he has is a very large one and consequently he will be able to give many valuable pointers on how to do things in our own area which we contemplate enlarging next spring.

The annual report of the Crow Wing council will be given showing activities in the past year, as well as the proposed program for the next three years. The scouts this year have gone forward by leaps and bounds and everything tends toward having one of the most successful years in scouting ever had in this council. They are not only increasing in number, but also the quality of the work and interest that will be manifested in the activities mapped out for the coming year.

B. P. Newton, scout executive feels certain that every member of the council will be intensely interested, not only in a personal way, but in a public way as well in the report that will be read on the year's activities and the proposed plans of the council for future advancement and enlargement.

The meeting will be over by 8 o'clock so that anyone having other engagements may be able to get to them.

AMUSEMENTS

Harold Bell Wright's Novel a Knock-out at Lyceum

"When a Man's a Man," Principal Pictures' screen version of the popular novel, opened last night at the Lyceum theatre to a typical Harold Bell Wright audience.

Most of the comment was directed at the exceptionally suitable cast which portrays the well-known characters of the story. John Bowers as "Patches" was, in the slang of the day, a "knockout." He and Marguerite de la Motte make an excellent team, and in the leading roles of the picture were received with enthusiasm by the Wright fans.

The balance of the cast included pretty June Marlowe, the seventeen-year-old Minneapolis high school girl who stepped out of the classroom into the Principal Pictures Studio.

Movie Earthquake Rivals Real Thing

"Torment," Maurice Tourneur's newest production, which will be presented at the Lyceum on Tuesday and Wednesday, is a timely offering in which the Japanese earthquake is an important factor.

Bessie Love and Owen Moore have the leading parts.

Ancient Olive Trees

Olive trees more than one thousand years old are found on the island of Majorca.

Still Seeking Grave

of Ancient Warrior

A new search is being made for the grave of Attila the Hun.

History records that during the middle of the Fifth century Attila led his ruthless hordes westward from Asia and over-ran the greater part of Europe, his career of conquest carrying him almost to the Atlantic ocean.

According to tradition Attila was buried on top of a high mountain somewhere in the basin of the Danube. Numerous legends describe his burial, the most striking point of which was the encasement of his body in three metal coffins. The outer coffin was made of iron, the middle one of silver, and the inner one of gold.

By common consent among the historians it has long been conceded that his grave was somewhere on a Hungarian mountain near the river Tisza. For more than a thousand years this mountain has borne his name. No absolute proof of his burial here has ever been discovered, however, and now the claim is being disputed.

In Steiermark, one of the nine states which compose the Austrian republic, excavators have discovered a number of weapons and other implements which date from the Fifth and Sixth centuries.

These discoveries were made on a mountain named "Huelnerberg." In ancient manuscripts this mountain was referred to as "Hunenberg," or Huns mountain. Steiermarkians claim that the discovery of the ancient weapons as well as the name of the mountain itself indicate that Attila and his chief were buried somewhere in the vicinity.

Hopefully and with great care they are now busy making further excavations at every point on the mountain where it is possible that Attila the Hun may lie resting in his triple coffin.

Wild Sheep

Ovis Poli is the great wild sheep of Marco Polo, the "father and mother" of all the wild sheep. He represents the elder branch of the family of which our big-horn is a member, and, weighing 300 pounds, he makes our big-horn look, in comparison, a small animal. He lives in the barren, treeless Pamirs. He was originally discovered about 1256 by Marco Polo, hence the name.

For a long time this was considered a romance, for anyone was willing to prove that no such animal could exist. It was allotted a place with the unicorn and the phoenix. At last, some six hundred years later, Lieut. John Wood, an English officer, made his way into the country, shot a sheep and proved that Marco Polo—at least in this instance—was speaking the truth. — Theodore Roosevelt, in Hearst's International Cosmopolitan.

"For the first time I shall enjoy Christmas with my family in- stead of slaving in the kitchen"

That is what a woman writes to the American Stove Company, which manufactures gas ranges with the "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator attachment.

Like other women who keep house, the writer declares that her holidays have meant spending all day in the kitchen preparing the feast for the family. Since she had a "Lorain"-equipped gas range given her, she never has to worry about cooking, or "pot-watching." She prepares the whole meal, puts it in the oven with the "Lorain" set for five-hour cooking, and then she has nothing to do until it is time to serve the meal. "Lorain" cooks it complete for her, and better than she could ever cook it before.

"Lorain" means better cooking, because it places absolutely measured and controlled oven temperatures at the disposal of the cook. No more guessing at oven temperatures. No more "unlucky" baking days.

Annual Meeting

Held

DEC. 17 AT RANSFORD HOTEL

Annual Report to Show Work Done
And Program For Next
3 Years

At a dinner to be served at the Ransford hotel, Thursday evening, December 17th, at 6:15 o'clock the Crow Wing council Boy Scouts of America will hold their annual meeting. J. B. Keller of Winona, Minn., commissioner of southeastern Minnesota area which includes Winona and Rochester and is comprised of seven counties will be the principal speaker of the evening. He is also a member of the National Council.

Mr. Keller attended the national council meeting during last spring which was held at New York and will no doubt have a great many very interesting things to relate about the work and newer policies of the national council. Mr. Keller has the reputation of being a very fine speaker and always has a lot of enthusiasm and pep to instill which will give those present a vision of scouting in a national way. The area that he has is a very large one and consequently he will be able to give many valuable pointers on how to do things in our own area which we contemplate enlarging next spring.

The annual report of the Crow Wing council will be given showing activities in the past year, as well as the proposed program for the next three years. The scouts this year have gone forward by leaps and bounds and everything tends toward having one of the most successful years in scouting ever had in this council. They are not only increasing in number, but also the quality of the work and interest that will be manifested in the activities mapped out for the coming year.

B. P. Newton, scout executive feels certain that every member of the council will be intensely interested, not only in a personal way, but in a public way as well in the report that will be read on the year's activities and the proposed plans of the council for future advancement and enlargement.

The meeting will be over by 8 o'clock so that anyone having other engagements may be able to get to them.

AMUSEMENTS

Harold Bell Wright's Novel a Knock-out at Lyceum

"When a Man's a Man," Principal Pictures' screen version of the popular novel, opened last night at the Lyceum theatre to a typical Harold Bell Wright audience.

Most of the comment was directed at the exceptionally suitable cast which portrays the well-known characters of the story. John Bowers as "Patches" was, in the slang of the day, a "knockout." He and Marguerite de la Motte make an excellent team, and in the leading roles of the picture were received with enthusiasm by the Wright fans.

The balance of the cast included pretty June Marlowe, the seventeen-year-old Minneapolis high school girl who stepped out of the classroom into the Principal Pictures Studio.

Movie Earthquake Rivals Real Thing

"Tormet," Maurice Tourneur's newest production, which will be presented at the Lyceum on Tuesday and Wednesday, is a timely offering in which the Japanese earthquake is an important factor.

Bessie Love and Owen Moore have the leading parts.

Ancient Olive Trees

Olive trees more than one thousand years old are found on the island of Majorca.

Still Seeking Grave of Ancient Warrior

A new search is being made for the grave of Attila the Hun.

History records that during the middle of the Fifth century Attila led his ruthless hordes westward from Asia and over-ran the greater part of Europe, his career of conquest carrying him almost to the Atlantic ocean.

According to tradition Attila was buried on top of a high mountain somewhere in the basin of the Danube. Numerous legends describe his burial, the most striking point of which was the encasement of his body in three metal coffins. The outer coffin was made of iron, the middle one of silver, and the inner one of gold.

By common consent among the historians it has long been conceded that his grave was somewhere on a Hungarian mountain near the river Tisza. For more than a thousand years this mountain has borne his name. No absolute proof of his burial here has ever been discovered, however, and now the claim is being disputed.

In Steiermark, one of the nine states which compose the Austrian republic, excavators have discovered a number of weapons and other implements which date from the Fifth and Sixth centuries.

These discoveries were made on a mountain named "Huehnerberg." In ancient manuscripts this mountain was referred to as "Hunenberg," or Huns mountain. Steiermarkians claim that the discovery of the ancient weapons as well as the name of the mountain itself indicate that Attila and his chief were buried somewhere in the vicinity.

Hopefully and with great care they are now busy making further excavations at every point on the mountain where it is possible that Attila the Hun may lie resting in his triple coffin.

Wild Sheep

Ovis Poli is the great wild sheep of Marco Polo, the "father and mother" of all the wild sheep. He represents the elder branch of the family of which our big-horn is a member, and, weighing 300 pounds, he makes our big-horn look, in comparison, a small animal. He lives in the barren, treeless Pamirs. He was originally discovered about 1256 by Marco Polo, hence the name.

For a long time this was considered a romance, for anyone was willing to prove that no such animal could exist. It was allotted a place with the unicorn and the phoenix. At last, some six hundred years later, Lieut. John Wood, an English officer, made his way into the country, shot a sheep and proved that Marco Polo—at least in this instance—was speaking the truth. — Theodore Roosevelt, in Hearst's International Cosmopolitan.

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Don't disappoint her again!

The fact that you may have thought about giving her a Hoover last year, for Christmas, has not eased her tasks during these long intervening months.

She is still sacrificing her time and strength with carpet beater and broom, when a Hoover would beat, sweep and clean her rugs electrically, dustlessly.

Don't disappoint her again, this Christmas! She has long looked forward to the day when she, like millions of other women, can be freed of cleaning drudgery.

Make The Hoover your gift to her. Let us show you how completely it solves her hardest problem of cleaning. And it's easy to buy.

The Supreme Compliment

Jewelry is a delicate flattery in the gift of jewels. A man of insensitive taste, the innate sense for doing the "correct thing" is well aware of that. So for the woman he wishes most to impress and please he chooses a tastefully selected piece of jewelry. Nothing else can so effectively convey his message of admiration. Pearls, delicately pink and lustrous, for the beauty who is blond! Gems that sparkle with fire and color for her of dark eyes and olive skin! Jewels to suit the most fastidious taste can be obtained at a price which will surprise and delight.

S. Lundborg, Jeweler
614 Laurel St., Brainerd, Minn.

"For the first time I shall enjoy Christmas with my family in- stead of slaving in the kitchen"

That is what a woman writes to the American Stove Company, which manufactures gas ranges with the "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator attachment.

Like other women who keep house, the writer declares that her holidays have meant spending all day in the kitchen preparing the feast for the family. Since she had a "Lorain"-equipped gas range given her, she never has to worry about cooking, or "pot-watching." She prepares the whole meal, puts it in the oven with the "Lorain" set for five-hour cooking, and then she has nothing to do until it is time to serve the meal. "Lorain" cooks it complete for her, and better than she could ever cook it before.

"Lorain" means better cooking, because it places absolutely measured and controlled oven temperatures at the disposal of the cook. No more guessing at oven temperatures. No more "unlucky" baking days.

LIVING CHRISTMAS TREES

IN all this furor about not cutting Christmas trees for home or street decoration, the calm counsel of State Forester Grover N. Conzet looms up. He believes that the cutting of Christmas trees should not be prohibited but regulated. It is regulated as revealed by the article of Parker O. Anderson, extension forester of the University of Minnesota, which THE DISPATCH published last week.

If properly conducted, cutting of conifers for the market may actually benefit the forests, according to Anderson. It is only wanton destruction such as cutting the tops from large trees to get a size suitable for household adornment that he decries.

"Forestry," Anderson said, "has no quarrel with Christmas tree cutting properly done, but with wasteful practices it does. Good forest management opposes indiscriminate cutting for decoration."

Grover N. Conzet, state forester, will speak, we believe on WCCO, December 17, at 6 p. m., on "The Christmas Tree in Relation to Forestry." On Monday, December 21, at the same hour, E. G. Cheney, professor of forestry at the State University, will speak on "The Meaning of the Christmas Tree."

Mrs. Willard Bayliss, president of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, urges the use of living Christmas trees in the homes and the planting of evergreens in the squares and public parks of the villages and communities for community trees.

Living Christmas trees, Mrs. Bayliss states, could be planted in boxes or tubs, and brought into the homes during the holiday season. In concluding her address to the Garden and Flower society, Mrs. Bayliss stated:

"There is no need of denying to our children a beautiful custom when it can be used to teach those children a lesson in tree planting. So next spring let us see that our children plant living Christmas trees in our yards, around the schools and in boxes for use in the house at Christmas time."

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

THE Christmas rush is on. Stores are speeding up and clerks are busier. Purchasers are traveling the shopping center of Brainerd with pencil marked lists of what to buy and for whom.

There are two classes of purchasers. Those who buy the ready-made articles and those who buy material and make presents. The latter class is of course the busier.

The average woman shopper wears herself to a frazzle before the Christmas season is over. It carries two sources of perturbation, I guess that's the word, as Charlie Johnson says. One is, has she remembered all her friends and relatives. The other comes when an unexpected present is received before Christmas and, of course, she is expected to come back with a return gift.

There is one class of giving that should never be neglected. Take note of your block. See if there's a family there which may not be able to have a complete Christmas. Your duty is to see that the little people are not neglected. Send some little one in your block a Christmas present. Christmas is peculiarly a holiday season for the children.

If there are no children in the block and you feel you must give, then send a donation to your hospital, to the public library or any other public institution you can benefit. There is really more honest joy and satisfaction in wise giving than in mere receiving.

TIDEWATER CONGRESS IN JANUARY

A JOINT meeting of the Council of States and Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater congress will be held at St. Paul on January 5 and 6. The Brainerd Chamber of Commerce should be represented so as to show Brainerd's interest in the matter. This congress should also consider improvement for navigation of the Mississippi river from the Twin Cities to the Gulf.

Twenty-one states are represented in the council. Governor Christianson has sent invitations to all communities, agricultural and civic organizations of Minnesota to send representatives to the congress.

In addition to the invitation to Minnesota people, the governors of all states in the area with similar economic conditions are expected to respond and to send large delegations.

SOMETIMES old things revived become new again. Henry Ford, for instance, brought an old-time fiddler from Maine to play for a series of dances the motor magnate is giving. Old-fashioned dances accompanied by old-fashioned music may revive friendly relationship, says Henry. One thing about the old-fashioned dances that is noticeable is that they never sanctioned the life and death, strange hold displayed in some of the bunny hugs of the present day.

MARY GARDEN has found the key to youth. The lovely Mary sits lightly clothed in the sunshine and eats spinach to the accompaniment of jazz band music. Unlike the usual theorist on diet and exercise, Mary is the joyous exponent of her methods. For the information of Brainerd ladies, it may be noted that Brainerd grocers carry stocks of canned spinach. We have the sunshine plus the ozone-laden air and the jazz band music can be supplied by Hedstrom's.

RED GRANGE is daily attaining higher heights in fame. Down in Bloomington, Ill., they named a baby Grange. Next thing we shall have the Grange cigar, the Grange sweater, the Grange suspenders, the Grange belt, the Grange shirt, and so forth, ad infinitum.

BLACK silver foxes are so valuable that they are never pelted unless they die. The fox farms seem to be adding to the visible supply for fox population, and we wonder when the saturation point will be reached.

THE state railroad and warehouse commission isn't very galling. The Northland Transportation company is now supreme in the Brainerd-Bemidji bus field and the Lackore line, operated by a woman, was ordered discontinued.

WE have kept out of the evolution argument. But we do know that many a woman can make a monkey of a man.

FURTHERING WORLD PEACE

By SIR ESME HOWARD
British Ambassador to the United States

PUBLIC opinion in America is rallying to the belief that the nation's own prosperity depends to a great extent on the prosperity of others. By helping the Near East Relief you are laying a great foundation for America's future in foreign lands.

You may think it strange that I, as an Englishman, should rejoice to see American competition growing in these countries of the Near East. I do so not only because as a sincere friend and admirer I am glad to see prosperity in this country, but also because I believe it will bring prosperity to those countries also.

At the time of the Christian exodus from Anatolia, 1,500,000 refugees were received into impoverished Greece. It is estimated that fifty per cent of these people are now able to provide for themselves. The Greek government is spending millions for this purpose, and the refugee commission of the League of Nations is administering a large international loan for the same purpose. I say this to show how impossible it is to expect these overburdened agencies to take over the many thousand children whom the Near East Relief is so generously and magnificently supporting, teaching them to earn their own living and become useful citizens. For the Near East Relief not only gives these children what we generally mean by education, but also teaches them all kinds of trades by which they may become self-supporting as they grow up.

Here is a work in which we all, whatever our faith, can gladly and heartily co-operate. It is a common ground on which we can all join in the service of God and of our fellow men.

Golden Rule Sunday will be observed throughout the United States in December, on behalf of the Near East Relief. This series of articles, by prominent public men who are supporters and spokesmen for this great philanthropy, is designed to call public attention to the background and purpose of the work and its need for general support.

"According to Hoyle"

The expression "according to Hoyle" refers to Edmund Hoyle, a writer on games, who was born in England in 1672. Little is known about Hoyle's life. Tradition says he was educated for the bar. At any rate, he went to London, where he spent much of his time writing on games and giving lessons in card playing, especially whist. He published a book in which he systematized the laws and rules of whist, a game on which he was considered an authority. His name became proverbial as an authority on games.

Playing a game "according to Hoyle" came to mean playing it fair and according to the recognized rules. Hoyle died in London in 1733.—Kansas City Star.

It Makes a Difference

Your success in life depends on your motive. There is an old fable about a dog that boasted of his ability as a runner. One day he gave chase to a rabbit but failed to catch it. The other dogs ridiculed him on account of his previous boasting. His reply was, "You must remember that the rabbit was running for his life, while I was only running for my dinner." The incentive is all-important. If

Care of Umbrellas

A shabby umbrella will spoil an otherwise perfect outfit. A much used umbrella soon shows signs of wear. When this happens, it is a good idea to open the umbrella and sponge it with strong sweetened tea. The tea freshens the color and the sugar imparts a slight stiffening to the fabric. An umbrella that has been dropped in the mud and cannot be cleaned by ordinary brushing is best treated in the following way: After greasing the inside wires to prevent them rusting, the cover of the umbrella should be scrubbed with warm, soapy water. It should be rinsed in clear, cold water and hung, still open, in the sun to dry.

The Warning One

On the plains of the West thousands of cattle may be seen grazing as one. They move slowly, feeding as they go, their heads pointing in the same direction. Occasionally among the hundreds there will be one individual that ignores the custom of the others and feeds where it will. The cattlemen have learned through experience to look to such an animal for the salvation of the rest in times of emergency. When wild creatures attack or sudden storms break, the solitary feeder is one to give warning or lead the herd to safety.—Cornelia James Cannon in the Atlantic Monthly.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Four Thousand Eight Hundred Thirteen & no-100 ($4,813.00) Dollars, principal and interest, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by G. B. Jenkins and Mae Jenkins, his wife, Mortgagees, to National Farmers Bank of Owatonna, Mortgagee, bearing date the 9th day of April, 1917, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, on the 16th day of May, 1917, at 9:00 o'clock A. M. in Book 19 of Mortgages, on page 372, and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz: Lot Number Seven (7) in Section Number Twenty-four (24), and Lot Number Five (5) in Section Number Twenty-three (23), all in Township Number One Hundred Thirty-eight (138), Range Number Twenty-seven (27), containing 97.07 acres, more or less, according to the U. S. Government survey thereof. Except one-half (1/2) of the minerals in Crow Wing County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Crow Wing County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Brainerd, in said County and State, on the 15th day of January, 1926, at 10:00 o'clock A. M. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Four Thousand Eight Hundred Thirteen & no-100 Dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Seventy-five ($75.00) Dollars. Attorney's Fees, as stipulated in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

"According to Hoyle"

The expression "according to Hoyle" refers to Edmund Hoyle, a writer on games, who was born in England in 1672. Little is known about Hoyle's life. Tradition says he was educated for the bar. At any rate, he went to London, where he spent much of his time writing on games and giving lessons in card playing, especially whist. He published a book in which he systematized the laws and rules of whist, a game on which he was considered an authority. His name became proverbial as an authority on games.

Playing a game "according to Hoyle" came to mean playing it fair and according to the recognized rules. Hoyle died in London in 1769.—Kansas City Star.

It Makes a Difference

Your success in life depends on your motive. There is an old fable about a dog that boasted of his ability as a runner. One day he gave chase to a rabbit but failed to catch it. The other dogs ridiculed him on account of his previous boasting. His reply was, "You must remember that the rabbit was running for his life, while I was only running for my dinner." The incentive is all-important. If

Care of Umbrellas

A shabby umbrella will spoil an otherwise perfect outfit. A much used umbrella soon shows signs of wear. When this happens, it is a good idea to open the umbrella and sponge it with strong sweetened tea. The tea freshens the color and the sugar imparts a slight stiffening to the fabric. An umbrella that has been dropped in the mud and cannot be cleaned by ordinary brushing is best treated in the following way: After greasing the inside wires to prevent them rusting, the cover of the umbrella should be scrubbed with warm, soapy water. It should be rinsed in clear, cold water and hung, still open, in the sun to dry.

The Warning One

On the plains of the West thousands of cattle may be seen grazing as one. They move slowly, feeding as they go, their heads pointing in the same direction. Occasionally among the hundreds there will be one individual that ignores the custom of the others and feeds where it will. The cattleman have learned through experience to look to such an animal for the salvation of the rest in times of emergency. When wild creatures attack or sudden storms break, the solitary feeder is one to give warning or lead the herd to safety.—Cornelia James Cannon in the Atlantic Monthly.

Toleration

How many there are who are unworthy of the light of day, and nevertheless the sun rises.—Seneca.

Wire Spokes Since 1869

Wire spokes for bicycle wheels were first introduced in 1869.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Four Thousand Eight Hundred Thirteen & no/100 ($4,813.00) Dollars, principal and interest, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by G. B. Jenkins and Mae Jenkins, his wife, Mortgagees, to National Farmers Bank of Owatonna, Mortgagee, bearing date the 9th day of April, 1917, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota on the 16th day of May, 1917, at 9:00 o'clock A. M. in Book 19 of Mortgages, on page 372, and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof, Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz: Lot Number Seven (7) in Section Number Twenty-four (24), and Lot Number Five (5) in Section Number Twenty-three (23), all in Township Number One Hundred Thirty-eight (138), Range Number Twenty-seven (27), containing 97.07 acres, more or less, according to the U. S. Government survey thereof. Except one-half (1/2) of the minerals, in Crow Wing County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Crow Wing County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Brainerd, in said County and State, on the 15th day of January, 1926, at 10:00 o'clock A. M. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Four Thousand Eight Hundred Thirteen & no/100 Dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Seventy-five ($75.00) Dollars, Attorney's Fees, as stipulated in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law. Dated November 27th, A. D. 1925. National Farmers Bank of Owatonna, Mortgagee.

HUGE TAX REDUCTION BILL IN HOUSE

LITTLE PROSPECT THAT THE AT-TEMPTS TO ALTER IT WILL BE ALLOWED

MEASURE SCHEDULED TO PASS
SATURDAY IN SUBSTANTI-ALLY PRESENT FORM

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Dec. 14.—The $325-000,000 tax reduction bill comes in the house for amendment today with little prospect that attempts to alter it will be successful. The measure is scheduled for passage by Saturday substantially in its present form.

Among amendments slated to be offered are those to increase the maximum surtax from 20 per cent in the bill to 25 or 30 per cent, to increase the 20 per cent inheritance tax levy, and to repeal automobile and excise taxes and levies on admission to lectures and concerts.
The American Automobile Association entered the tax bill fight at the last minute today with a demand for the repeal of the automobile passenger, car tax. The association objected strenuously to the three per cent levy contained in the bill.

SENATOR COUZENS GIVES HIS VIEWS

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 14.—United States Senator James S. Couzens, republican, of Michigan, is "by no means convinced of the soundness" of reducing federal taxation at this time.

Writing in the current issues of "The Detroitian," official publication of the Detroit Board of Commerce,
Couzens declares:

"The question that arises is the liquidation of our enormous debt and the reduction of this enormous interest charge—more desirable than the reduction of taxes."

Reduction, Couzens believes, is "tantamount to a dividend" by a corporation faced with expenditures for interest and sinking fund totaling forty per cent of its income.

"The federal government's interest and sinking fund charges are just exactly 39.88 per cent of its receipts," he writes.

"Of course, if the proceeds from these taxes were to be wasted in governmental expenses, then I would by all means favor immediate reduction."

"But if they are to be applied to ward liquidation of our debts and consequent reduction of interest charges it seems to me that would be the most provident thing to do.

"Business men in times of prosperity put their financial houses in order," Couzens added.

Residents of English Town "Cultivate" Cats

The old nursery rhyme about the cats of St. Ives is based on a solid foundation, for St. Ives, England, is the cat kingdom, as is evident to any visitor. Cats are encouraged to the limit. By an old resident it is thus explained:
"This is a very old town—500 years some of the houses, leastways their cellars, and parts of the foundation
are. Now, we keep on fishing gear in the cellars, and there is a terrible lot of rats and mice about in an old place like this. Well, the rats, and the mice, too, would eat the nets;
they'd eat us out of house and home
if it were not for the cats.

"A characteristic of the cats of St.
Ives is that they do a little fishing for themselves. These sleek, well-fed and exceptionally friendly animals delight in a romp over the sand and in dodging the waves. Afterward they will watch for hours by some shallow pool for some unsuspecting fish or small crab which ventures from its retreat from a bunch of seaweed or a rock."—Chicago Journal.

CHICAGO SANTA CLAUS ARRESTED AS KIDS SOB

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Santa Claus teetered happily at Randolph and State streets today, surrounded by a band of joyous children patting heads and promising overflowing Christmas stockings.

The joy of the children turned to sorrow as Patrolman Mike Reynolds strode up and laid large hands on Santa and then called a police wagon. There were tears and audible sobs from the children as they saw their cherished
Santa being bundled into the wagon.

At police headquarters Santa, in regular life Thomas Martin, was booked on a charge of being drunk. Martin represented a business organization and had imbibed a little too much in an effort to steam up a little cheer.

COACH KNUTE ROCKNE SEEMS UP IN AIR

HAS NO CONTRACT WITH COLUMBIA, PRESENT ONE SHAKY

"I'M JUST AN EMPLOYEE AT NOTRE DAME, MAY HAVE TO HUNT ANOTHER JOB"

DAY OF HECTIC CONFERENCES HELD IN NEW YORK WITH COLUMBIA U

New York, Dec. 14.—Columbia University athletic officials will start an investigation today to determine the responsibility for the statement that Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, had signed a three year contract to coach at Columbia.

The football committee was said to have admitted responsibility for the statement that was issued to the press but one of the members of the committee said that James R. Knapp, chairman, had not told him that Rockne had written on Dec. 7 that he could get his release at Notre Dame and that the deal was off.

After a day of hectic conferences Saturday, Rockne said that he had been given a "dirty deal" and that the statement by Columbia officials that they didn't know he was under contract at Notre Dame was an attempt to put him in a bad light with the public.

"I refused to make a statement until I could confer with the Columbia people on an explanation that would have been fair to both of us, but they jumped the gun on me," he said.

Rockne returned to Notre Dame yesterday to see if he still had a job there.

"I'm just an employee at Notre Dame," he said, "and if the faculty doesn't want me after what has happened, I'll have to look for another job."

Rockne said he was to sail on Jan. 6 for a month's vacation in France—the first he has had in 10 years.

CRITICISM OVER DECISION FOR BERLENBACH

WILL NOT CHANGE NEW SCORING RULES OF N. Y. BOXING COMMISSION

DELANEY'S FRIENDS INSISTED THEIR MAN SCORED 8 TO 5 POINTS

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Dec. 14.—Criticism of the decision which gave Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champion, a victory over Jack Delaney in their recent bout, will not cause a change in the new scoring rules of the New York boxing commission, it was learned today.

Delaney's friends and those who have bet that there would be a new champion, insisted that the score was at least 8 to 5 and that Delaney would have won if the two judges and the referee had voted according to the new rule.

This rule requires the officials to mark down the winner of each round as it is completed and give the decision to the boxer who has won the larger number of rounds if the final bell finds them on their feet.

There were so many complaints about funny decisions when the officials followed the old haphazard system of scoring points promiscuously and writing an opinion at the finish that the commission decided to try something new.

The new system had its first trial in a championship fight when Berlenbach and Delaney met and to some, at least, it didn't work, although it was our opinion that Berlenbach won handily.

There is one drawback to the new system. It does not put a premium on exceedingly good work by a boxer when it gives him one point for winning a round. The boxer who knocks his opponent down three times in a round ought to get more points than a boxer who outboxes his opponent by a shade.

This system of scoring would make a joke out of baseball. Suppose the Yankees and the Giants were playing and the Yankees scored one run in each of the first eight innings and the Giants did not score until the ninth when they put over nine runs, the Yankees would have had the advantage in eight innings but the Giants most certainly would have won the game.

Some complaint was made by boxers and managers when the rule was passed but the officials seem to think that it will be an improvement on the old system.

MISS SEARS TAKING A WALK OF 50 MILES TODAY

WOMAN ATHLETE TRAVELING FROM PROVIDENCE TO BOSTON

MADE A WAGER SHE COULD COVER DISTANCE INSIDE OF 15 HOURS

Providence, R. I., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Miss Eleanor Sears, Boston society woman, nationally known tennis player and close friend of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, started at 1 a. m., today to walk from this city to Boston to settle a wager.

To win the wager, Miss Sears, an all around athlete, must cover the approximately fifty miles inside of 15 hours.

She is accompanied on her walk by Roger W. Cutler, former Harvard athlete and Albert Hinckley of Boston.

Trailed by newspapermen in automobiles, Miss Sears started from the home of H. O. Sturges explaining that for over a year she had been contemplating such a walk and that once before she had made a start but a storm had come up and forced her to abandon it.

She made the first four miles to Pawtucket in approximately an hour and at daylight was well on the road.

Miss Sears is well known as an athlete and long distance walker. A number of years ago she walked from Burlingame, Cal., to Del Monte, Cal.,—two society resorts—a distance of approximately 110 miles, averaging three miles an hour.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 14.—Miss Eleanor Sears, Boston society woman, who is walking from Providence to this city to decide a wager had covered more than half the distance at 7 a. m. today.

At that hour she passed through Walpole which is 26 miles from Providence, and only 19 miles from Boston.

Reports from Walpole stated that Miss Sears was "going strong" and showed not the faintest signs of fatigue.

At 8:45 a. m. Miss Sears arrived in Dedham, 34 miles from Providence and only 11 miles from Boston.

If Miss Sears maintains her present

ent pace she will arrive in Boston before noon.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 14.—Miss Eleanor Sears, Boston society woman arrived at her Beacon street home at 12:06 p. m. today, having walked 45 miles from Providence to this city in 11 hours, 6 minutes.

Miss Sears had wagered she could cover the distance within 15 hours. She crossed the finish line 3 hours and 54 minutes ahead of schedule.

Miss Sears had quickened her pace during the last block of the home stretch and she was almost running as her hike ended. Cutler and Hinckley presented a marked contrast to the plucky little society woman. They had agreed to accompany her in the role of pace setters, but it was apparent that Miss Sears had set the pace most of the way and that her manly strides had had a deleterious effect on her athletic companions.

A newspaperman had suggested, while Miss Sears was being photographed that the 45-mile walk at an average of about four miles an hour must have tired her.

"No sir," she exclaimed, "I'm good for another 45 miles right now."

Meanwhile, Cutler and Hinckley had gone into the reception hall, as through the half open door, they could be seen, lying on a huge divan, quite obviously exhausted.

Miss Sears did not divulge the details of the wager in connection with which she made the hike. With cameras still clicking, she entered her home and closed the door and thereafter was "not at home" to the newspapermen.

A Canadian hockey star having been offered $10,000 a year to play in New York, we are again reminded that sport would be considerably more sporty in this country if it were considerably less on the market.

The New York Giants of the National Professional Football league, have three former All-Americans on the eleven. They are Joe Alexander, former Syracuse center; "Century" Miltied of Yale, and Lynn Bomar of Vanderbilt.

According to a recent decision of the Olympic technical congress, any athlete who knowingly is, or has been, a professional in any sport cannot compete in the Olympic games. Athletes are excluded from the games who receive money to reimburse them for the loss of wages or salaries.

BEMIDJI-BRAINERD BUS SERVICE IS CUT DOWN

Beginning on Sunday, Dec. 13, the Northland Transportation Co., operators of the Bemidji-Brainerd bus line, put a new schedule into effect on this run. Beginning on that date there is but one bus daily to Brainerd from Bemidji and but one from Brainerd to Bemidji. The bus from Bemidji will leave daily at 7:30 a. m., arriving in Brainerd at 12:20, and will leave Brainerd at 1:10 p. m., arriving in Bemidji at 6:10. Two buses have been running each way daily heretofore, one leaving Bemidji at 9 o'clock and another at 1:40. The new schedule cuts down the service between these cities to half of what it has been.

New fares are also in effect beginning Sunday. These are based on 3 cents a mile and are correspondingly higher than the old rates.

Bus travel between Brainerd and Bemidji and intermediate points will be more of an expense than has been the case and the service will not be as good.

SPEECH CLINIC IS NOW PLANNED

Brainerd School Board to Finance Holding of the Same

LOCATION CITY HALL

To be Held in Offices of City and School Nurse, All Services Free

The Brainerd school board will finance the holding of a speech clinic next week on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 21, 22 and 23 at the office of Miss Eula Michael, city and school nurse, City hall. The services of the clinic are free of charge.

Children or adults suffering from any form of speech difficulty, such as stammering, stuttering, lisping or inarticulate speech may avail themselves of this opportunity. F. L. D. Holmes of the state university who will conduct the clinic, can be in the city only a very limited time, and so can handle only a limited number of cases. In order to save his time for consultation work, Miss Michael, city nurse, will complete during this week as much as possible of the work of making case histories. Those desiring consultations will assist greatly in carrying out the details of the plans for the clinic work by communicating at once with Miss Michael at the city hall, or Miss Oertling at the high school, so that besides making possible the gathering before hand of necessary information about cases, the schedule of appointments for Mr. Holmes may be worked out and as many consultations as possible be arranged for the few days at his disposal.

Mr. Holmes, aside from holding individual conferences with children and parents will very likely make explanations concerning speech defects at a more or less public meeting of parents and others interested.

After the clinic has been held, Miss Michael and Miss Oertling plan to conduct a Saturday speech correction class to carry out as far as possible the instructions given by Mr. Holmes concerning the individual cases.

NOTICE

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. You are cordially invited to attend the dancing party, Friday evening, Dec. 18, at I. O. O. F. hall, given by Rushworth Encampment, No. 19. Mrs. Julia Leinen, wife of John Leinen, 517 4th Ave. N. E., died Saturday, December 12th, death resulting from complications. She was 57 years of age.

Deceased was born in Germany in 1868, coming to the United States about 35 years ago and has resided in Brainerd for nine years.

Beside her husband, five children survive her: Fred Gultz of Stillwater, Minn., Mrs. Ida Richels and James A. Cory of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Millie Johnson and Henry Gultz of this city.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning, December 15th at 8 o'clock from the residence, 517 4th Ave. N. E., and at 8:20 from St. Francis Catholic church. She will be buried in Evergreen cemetery.

VAUDEVILLE AT PARK

Finkelstein & Ruben Are Furnishing Splendid Bills at Local Theatre

The vaudeville at the New Park has been proving itself 100 per cent O. K. and this week's bill looks exceptional. Finkelstein & Ruben are furnishing many big time acts on their circuit. Besides the feature picture the following is a sketch of the bill:

Margaret Doherty has been identified in producing reviews for the last twelve years. In presenting Rainbow Revue, a dancing, singing revue, five girls and one man, all special songs, and an elaborate wardrobe of seven complete changes, Miss Doherty has outlined her act in such a manner that her dancers are enabled to interpret all phases of dancing. Miss Doherty possesses a lyric soprano voice of considerable range.

Madam Laurent presents an act consisting of six trained dogs who do all kinds of tricks on a revolving platform.

Frank Juban presents a singing and dancing act playing the saxophone and cornet. He also sings, talks and dances to good advantage and is a clever performer and will surely entertain all those who see him.

"The Crazy Cartoonist" with Billy Van, entertainer with the American Expeditionary Forces, offers a novel chair and monologue act.

Herb Lloyd and Marion Avis present "A Nightmare of Comedy" with comedy talk, singing and comedy dancing, using all special numbers. This act is a scream and will take your blues away.

Clara Lutheran Church

The Brotherhood of Clara Lutheran church meets this evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlors. This is our annual business meeting and all members are requested to be present.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the Knights of Columbus, members and faculty of St. Mary's College, Winona, relatives and friends for the beautiful floral offerings and expressions of kind sympathy in our bereavement.

MR. and MRS. JOSEPH NEARY, 11p and family.

PAGEANT REHEARSALS

To be Held This Week by Church School of Episcopal Church

There will be two rehearsals for the special pageant to be given by the church school of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Seventh and Juniper streets next Sunday afternoon at a special service at 4 o'clock. The rehearsals have been changed for this week and will be held Tuesday afternoon and Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All of the members of the church school as well as all those taking part in the pageant are urged to be present Tuesday and Saturday instead as previously announced.

Nelson-Anderson

Harry Nelson of Bock, Minn., and Miss Esther M. Anderson formerly of Twin Valley, Minn., were united in marriage at the Clara Lutheran parsonage Saturday afternoon, Rev. August Samuelson officiating. They were attended by Roy Nelson, brother of the groom and Miss Elizabeth Elg of Minneapolis.

WYLIE STEWART MOST PLEASING

Gave Varied And Much Enjoyed Program at Brainerd Musical Club

WIDE RANGE OF SONGS

Enunciation is Perfect in American And Foreign Selections Given

Wylie Stewart fully justified his advance notices in the concert Saturday for the Brainerd Musical, when he gave a varied and much enjoyed program, which ranged from arias from the Messiah to lightest encores.

His personality was distinctly pleasing and his garb of that correctness and fit that immediately satisfies the audience that the program will be equally appropriate. In the numbers that required some dramatic action, Mr. Stewart gave the right interpretation, and added appreciably to the beauty of the notes.

His enunciation was perfect, and his foreign songs were sung with the same correct accent that he gave to the English. To many people, the beauty of a song is more than just the melody, and much pleasure is missing if the words are mumbled. Every word was sung without slurring a single sound. His lighter songs were done in just the right spirit, and ran the gamut of all the emotions, as expressed in the airiness of the Pretty Creature, the somberness of "Chanson d'Automne," and the haunting sadness of "Duna." The peculiar qualities of negro spirituals he gave very well in "Wait till I put on my Crown," and in his glowing, well known and always pleasing "The old ark's a-moverin'."

The most difficult numbers were the arias from the Messiah and from La Gioconda. Every Valley was a great tribute to his breath control, for he held the long notes with an almost uncanny ease without in any way diminishing the beauty of the notes or expression. He was most liberal with his encores, recognizing the real enthusiasm of his listeners, which is some way communicates itself to the artist even though the people do not begin their applause as early as they should. If there is a suggestion to be made, it would be that the "Entente Cordial" between the two would be established more readily if the audience would show their appreciation from the beginning by applauding, instead of taking such a long time to warm up. This should especially hold true when there is such thorough approval as there was yesterday.

Miss Bertha Hagen gave the pleasure she always does, than which there is no greater praise, for her accompaniments, in the three times she has been here, are always a very great asset to the singer and the audience. We hope she returns to Brainerd again soon.

Makes home cooking taste like the creation of an expert French chef. Just a dash of Kitchen Bouquet—and soups, stews, gravies and sauces take on a new and appetizing flavor and color. A remarkable liquid flavoring—prepared from the aromatic juices of choice garden vegetables.

Macaroni Supreme

2 tablespoons Kitchen Bouquet; 1/2 package Foodie Macaroni; 1 large tablespoonful flour; 2 tablespoonful butter; 2 tablespoonful onion chopped fine; 2 cups milk; cheese; brook macaroni in inch pieces, throw into boiling salted water enough to cover well, and cook until tender. Rinse well in cold water. Prepare a sauce as follows: Into a saucepan place the butter and onions and let simmer, but not brown, for ten minutes; then add flour, stirring well. Add the milk gradually and stir until smooth. Put cheese to make one cupful through the food chopper, add the Kitchen Bouquet, and mix well, then add to the sauce. Mix sauce and macaroni together, reheat and serve.

BEMIDJI-BRAINERD BUS SERVICE IS CUT DOWN

Beginning on Sunday, Dec. 13, the Northland Transportation Co., operators of the Bemidji-Brainerd bus line, put a new schedule into effect on this run. Beginning on that date there is but one bus daily to Brainerd from Bemidji and but one from Brainerd to Bemidji. The bus from Bemidji will leave daily at 7:30 a. m., arriving at Brainerd at 12:20 a. m., and will leave Brainerd at 1:10 p. m., arriving in Bemidji at 6:10. Two buses have been running each way daily heretofore, one leaving Bemidji at 9 o'clock and another at 1:40. The new schedule cuts down the service between these cities to half of what it has been.

New fares are also in effect beginning Sunday. These are based on 3 cents a mile and are correspondingly higher than the old rates. Bus travel between Brainerd and Bemidji and intermediate points will be more of an expense than has been the case and the service will not be as good.

SPEECH CLINIC IS NOW PLANNED

Brainerd School Board to Finance Holding of the Same

LOCATION CITY HALL

To be Held in Offices of City and School Nurse, All Services Free

The Brainerd school board will finance the holding of a speech clinic next week on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 21, 22 and 23 at the office of Miss Eula Michael, city and school nurse, City hall. The services of the clinic are free of charge.

Children or adults suffering from any form of speech difficulty, such as stammering, stuttering, lisping or laryngeal speech may avail themselves of this opportunity. E. L. J. Holmes of the state university who will conduct the clinic, can be in the city only a very limited time, and so can handle only a limited number of cases. In order to save his time for consultation work, Miss Michael, city nurse, will complete during this week as much as possible of the work of making case histories. Those desiring consultations will assist greatly in carrying out the details of the plans for the clinic work by communicating at once with Miss Michael at the city hall, or with Miss Oertling at the high school, so that besides making possible the gathering before hand of necessary information about cases, the schedule of appointments for Mr. Holmes may be worked out and as many consultations as possible be arranged for the few days at his disposal.

Mr. Holmes, aside from holding individual conferences with children and parents will very likely make explanations concerning speech defects at a more or less public meeting of parents and others interested.

After the clinic has been held, Miss Michael and Miss Oertling plan to conduct a Saturday speech correction class to carry out as far as possible the instructions given by Mr. Holmes concerning the individual cases.

CHAPTER XXIII

"Wal, w'at I tol' you?" "Poleon Doret exclaimed cheerfully. "Me, I'm cut off for poor man. If one dose El Dorado millionaire' give me his pay-dump, all de gold disappear biffore I get him in de sluice-box. Som people is born Jonah." Despite this melancholy announcement "Poleon was far from depressed. On the contrary, he beamed like a boy and his eyes were sparkling with the joy of again beholding his "sister."

He had returned from the hills late this evening and now he had come to fetch Roulette from her work. This was his first opportunity for a word with her alone.

The girl was not unmoved by his tale of blighted expectations; she refused, nevertheless, to accept it as conclusive. "Nonsense!" she said, briskly. "You know very well you haven't prospected your claim for what it's worth. You haven't had time."

"I don't got to prospece' him," "Poleon asserted. "Dat's good t'ing 'bout dat claim. Some Swede fellers above me cross-cut de whole dam creek an' don't fin' no much as one color. Sapre! Dat's funny creek. She ain't got no gravel." The speaker threw back his head and laughed heartily. "It's 'lucky' I 'scover de only creek on all de Yukon w/out gravel. Muck! Twenty feet of solid frozen muck! It's lucky I stake on soch hum place, eh? S'pose all winter I dig an' don't fin' 'im out?"

For a moment Roulette remained silent; then she said, wearily: "Everything is all wrong, all up-side down, isn't it? The McCaskays struck pay; so did Tom and Jerry. But you—why, in all your years in this country you've never found anything. Where's the justice?"

"No, no! I fin' somet'ing more better as dem feller. I fin' a sister; I fin' you. By Gar! I don't trade you for 'ousan' pay-streak!" Lowering his voice, "Poleon said, earnestly. "I don't know how much I love you, ma soeur, until I go 'way and t'ink 'bout it."

Roulette smiled mistily and touched the big fellow's hand, whereupon he continued: "All dese year I look in de mos' likely spot for gold, an' don't fin' him. Wal, I mak' change. I don't look in no more creek-bottom; I'm goin' hit de high spot!"

Reproachfully the girl exclaimed, "You promised me to cut that out."

With a grin the woodsman reassured her: "No, no! I mean I'm goin' dig on top de mountains."

"Not—really? Why, 'Poleon, gold is heavy! It sinks! It's deep down in de creek-beds."

"It sink, sure 'nough," he nodded, "but where it sink from, er? I don't lak livin' in low place, anyhow—you don't see no'tin'. Me, I must have good view."

"What are you driving at?" "I tell you: long tam ago I know old miner. He's forever talk 'bout high bars, old reever-bed, an' soch t'ing. We call him 'High Bar.' He mak' funny story 'bout reever dat use to was on top de mountain. By golly! I laugh at him! But w'at you t'ink? I'm crossin' dose hill 'bove El Dorado an' I see place where dose miner is shoot dry timber down into de gulch. Dose log have dug up de snow an' I fin'—what?—Impressively the speaker whispered one word, "Gravel!"

Much to his disappointment, Roulette remained impassive in the face of this startling announcement. Vaguely she inquired: "What of it? There's gravel everywhere. What you want is gold—"

"Mon Dieu!" "Poleon lifted his hands in despair. "You're worse as cheekako. Where gravel is dere you fin' gold, ain't you?"

"Why—not always."

With a shrug the woodsman agreed. "Of course, not always, but—"

"On top of a hill?"

"De tip top."

"How perfectly absurd! How could gold run uphill?"

"I don't know," the other confessed. "But for dat matter, how she run downhill? She ain't got no legs I s'pose de book hexplain it somehow. Wal! I stake two claim—one for you, one for me. It's dandy place for cabin! You look forty mile from dat spot. Mak' you feel ju's lak bird on top of high tree. Dere's plenty dry wood, too, an' down below is de Forks—nice town w't' saloon an' eatin'-place. You can hear de choppin' an' de win'l'ass creakin' Drug Co.

and smell de smoke. It's fine place for singin' songs up dere."

"Poleon!" Roulette tried to look her sternest. "You're a great overgrown boy. You can't stick to anything. You're merely lonesome and you want to get in where the people are."

"Lonesome! Don't I live lak bear when I'm trappin'? Some winter I don't see nobody in de least."

"Probably I made a mistake in bringing you down here to Dawson," the girl continued, meditatively. "You were doing well up the river, and you were happy. Here you spend your money; you gamble, you drink—the town is spoiling you just as it is spoiling the others."

"Um-m! Mebbe so," the man confessed. "Never I felt lak I do lately. If I don't come in town today I swell up an' bust. I'm full of t'ing I can't say."

"Go to work somewhere."

"For wages?" "Me?" Doret shook his head positively. "I try him once cookin' for gang of rough-neck—but I mak' joke an' 'm fire. Dem feller kick 'bout my grub and it mak' me mad, so one day I sharpen all de table-knife. I put keen edge on dem lak razor." The speaker showed his white teeth in a flashing smile. "Dat's meanes' trick ever I play. Sapre! Dem feller cut der mouth so fast dey mos' die of bleedin'. No I ain't hired man for nobody. I mus' be free."

"Very well," Roulette sighed, resignedly. "I won't scold you, for I'm too glad to see you." Affectionately she squeezed his arm, whereupon he beamed again in the frankest delight. "Now, then, we'll have supper and you can take me home."

Common Word "Fiasco"

Borrowed From Italy

The word "fiasco" has become current coin in English speech, though it is doubtful if many who use it know that it is an Italian word meaning bottle. Several accounts have been given of why an immediate failure is called a bottle. A correspondent of "Notes and Queries" wrote in 1863: "Some years since, Signor V. Pistrucci, professor of Italian at King's college, gave me the following derivation. A gentleman visiting an Italian glass manufactory was struck with the apparent simplicity of the work, so he asked permission to try his hand at glass-blowing, but found the operation more difficult than it looked and the only thing he was able to produce was the common flask (fiasco). The amused workmen crowded around him, and greeted each successive failure with laughter and the cry of 'Altro fiasco! altro fiasco!' (Another fiasco.)—Exchange.

First English Theater

The first regular theater in England, built by James Burbage in 1576 and 1577, was named "The Theater." A wooden structure, it was razed in 1598 and rebuilt on another site as the Globe theater.

Odd Qualifications

SUFFERED FROM COMPLICATION OF THROAT SWELLING

TAKEN ILL SOON AFTER ELECTED TO HEAD 10,000 LAKES ASSOCIATION

Owatonna, Minn., Dec. 14.—(UP) Ernest T. Winship, 65, pioneer of this community and an outstanding figure in the northwest, died suddenly at a hospital here today from a swelling of the throat complicating an attack of laryngitis.

Winship was taken ill in St. Paul soon after his election to the presidency of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association, succeeding R. R. Wise of Brainerd who died less than a month ago. Apparently he recovered, but a relapse forced his return to a hospital yesterday.

Until five minutes before his death, Winship was seemingly making rapid progress. His death was a complete surprise to attending physicians.

Winship was the son of Nathaniel Winship, owner of the Winship House, Owatonna's first hotel. It was founded at the time when the city was little more than a wilderness settlement and a stage coach its only means of communication with the outside world.

Besides heading the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, Winship was president of the Minnesota State Automobile Association and of the Minnesota Holstein Breeders' Association.

* UNPRECEDENTED BANK CLEARINGS *

New York, Dec. 14.—Traders who have been waiting for a reaction and were particularly confident that a good sized setback would be seen before the middle of the month were doomed to disappointment by the action of the market at the start of the new week. Speculative sentiment was buoyed by the indications of unprecedented bank clearings and the longest series of million car freight loadings in the history of the railroads.

Atlantic Coast Line, C. and O. and other standard investment issues headed the forward movement among the rails, while the character of the leaders in the industrial list was also impressive with General Electric, American Can, particularly well bought.

In fact nothing in the day's transactions afforded anything but encouragement and the bears were forced to cover their contracts on a rapidly rising price scale.

The market closed irregular.

Land of Dead Heroes

Avalon was, according to an old Celtic legend, an earthly paradise, existing somewhere in the seas west of Europe, to which great heroes were carried after death. It was called, also, the Land of the Blessed.

King David was known as the Sweet Singer of Israel.

Solving the Hard Problems

THE work of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in developing cracking processes is outstanding among the many contributions it has made to the consumer of gasoline.

The importance of these processes is emphasized when it is known that they have increased the yield of gasoline, from a given amount of crude, by more than 50%.

During the past few years the consumption of gasoline has increased as follows:

	Gasoline Consumed	Cars Registered
1922	5.3 Billion Gals.	12.2 Million
1923	6.6 " "	15.0 " "
1924	7.7 " "	17.5 " "

Statistics for 1924 show that crude production amounted to 40.7 barrels per registered car, as against 47 barrels per registered car for 1923, whereas, for comparative purposes, we point out that, in 1913 the production per registered car was 194 barrels.

Despite the overflowing wells in the Southwest and particularly in California, during the past few years, the supply of gasoline would not have kept pace with the automobile manufacturers' production, had it not been for the advanced work done by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in developing cracking processes which stretched the available supply of crude oil to meet the demand for gasoline.

This Company did not keep its cracking processes for its exclusive use, but leased them on an equitable basis to other refiners that they also might do their part in keeping the supply of gasoline equal to the demand.

To have kept its cracking processes to itself would have meant huge profits to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), but it chose rather to pass on these benefits to the consuming public.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) combines expert business management with maximum technical skill.

This Company's technicians protect the quality of its oils and gasoline and assure you of an abundant supply at fair prices.

Expert business management stops losses and reduces expenses—while its supreme efficiency puts gasoline and oils easily within the reach of every motorist of the Middle West.

CHAPTER XXIII

"Wal, w'at I tol' you?" "Poleon Doret exclaimed cheerfully. "Me, I'm cut off for poor man. If one dose El Dorado millionaire give me his pay-dump, all de gold disappear biffore I get him in de sluice-box. Som people is born Jonah." Despite this melancholy announcement "Poleon was far from depressed. On the contrary, he beamed like a boy and his eyes were sparkling with the joy of again beholding his "sister." He had returned from the hills late this evening and now he had come to fetch Rouletta from her work. This was his first opportunity for a word with her alone.

The girl was not unmoved by his tale of blighted expectations; she refused, nevertheless, to accept it as conclusive. "Nonsense!" she said, briskly. "You know very well you haven't prospected your claim for what it's worth. You haven't had time."

"I don't got to prospect him," "Poleon asserted. "Dat's good 't'ing 'bout dat claim. Some Swede fellers above me cross-cut de whole dam' creek an' don't fin' so much as one color. Sapre! Dat's fanny creek. She ain't got no gravel." The speaker threw back his head and laughed heartily. "It's fac! I scower de only creek on all de Yukon w'out gravel. Muck! Twenty feet of solid frozen muck! It's lucky I stake on soch bum place, eh? S'pose all winter I dig an' don't fin' 'im out!"

For a moment Rouletta remained silent; then she said, wearily: "Everything is all wrong, all up-side down, isn't it? The McCaskies struck pay; so did Tom and Jerry. But you—why, in all your years in this country you've never found anything. Where's the justice?"

"No, no! I fin' something more better as dem feller. I fin' a sister; I fin' you. By Gar! I don't trade you for 'tousan' pay-streak!" Lowering his voice, "Poleon said, earnestly, "I don't know how much I love you, ma soeur, until I go 'way and t'ink 'bout it."

Rouletta smiled mistily and touched the big fellow's hand, whereupon he continued: "All dese year I look in de mos' likely spot for gold, an' don't fin' 'im. Wal, I mak' change. I don't look in no more creek-bottom; I'm goin' hit de high spot!"

Reproachfully the girl exclaimed, "You promised me to cut that out." With a grin the woodsman reassured her: "No, no! I mean I'm goin' dig on top de mountains."

"Not—really? Why, 'Poleon, gold is heavy! It sink! It sink! It sink deep in de creek-bed."

"It sink, sure 'nough," he nodded, "but where it sink from, er? I don't lak livin' in low place, anyhow—I don't see no 'tin'. Me, I must have good view."

"What are you driving at?" "I tell you: long tam ago I know old miner. He's forever talk 'bout high bars, old reever-bed, an' soch 't'ing. We call him 'High Bar.' He mak' fanny story 'bout reever dat use to be on top de mountain. By golly! I laugh at him! But w'at you t'ink? I'm crosstin' dese hill 'bove El Dorado an' I see place where dese miner is shoot dry timber down into de gulch. Dose log have dug up de snow an' I fin'—what?"

Impressively the speaker whispered one word, "Gravel!"

Much to his disappointment, Rouletta remained impassive in the face of this startling announcement. Vaguely she inquired: "What of it? There's gravel everywhere. What you want is gold—"

"Mon Dieu!" "Poleon lifted his hands in despair. "You're worse as cheekako. Where gravel is dere you fin' gold, ain't you?"

"Why—not always?" With a shrug the woodsman agreed. "Of course, not always, but—"

"On top of a hill?" "De tip top?"

"How perfectly absurd! How could gold run uphill?"

"I don't know," the other confessed. "But for dat matter, how she run downhill? She ain't got no legs. I s'pose de book he explain it somehow. Wal, I stake two claim—one for you, one for me. It's dandy place for cabin! You look forty mile from dat spot. Mak' you feel jus' lak bird on top of high tree. Dere's plenty dry wood, too, an' down below is de Forks—nice town wit' saloon an' eatin-place. You can hear de choppin' an' de win'lass creakin' Drug Co.

and smell de smoke. It's fine place for singin' songs up dere."

"Poleon!" Rouletta tried to look her sternest. "You're a great overgrown boy. You can't stick to anything. You're merely lonesome and you want to get in where the people are."

"Lonesome! Don't I live lak bear when I'm trappin'? Some winter I don't see nobody in de least."

"Probably I made a mistake in bringing you down here to Dawson," the girl continued, meditatively. "You were doing well up the river, and you were happy. Here you spend your money; you gamble, you drink—the town is spoiling you just as it is spoiling the others."

"Um-m! Mebbe so," the man confessed. "Never I felt lak I do lately. If I don't come in town today I swell up an' bus. I'm full of t'ing I can't say."

"Go to work somewhere."

"For wages?" "Me?" Doret shook his head positively. "I try him once cookin' for gang of rough-neck—but I mak' joke an' 'im fire. Dem feller kick 'bout my grub and it mak' me mad, so one day I sharpen all de table-knife. I put keen edge on dem lak razor."

The speaker showed his white teeth in a flashing smile. "Dat's meanes' trick ever I play. Sapre! Dem feller cut deir mouth so fast dey mos' die of bleedin'." No, I ain't hired man for nobody. I mus' be free."

"Very well," Rouletta sighed, resignedly. "I won't scold you, for—I'm too glad to see you." Affectionately she squeezed his arm, whereupon he beamed again in the frankest delight. "Now, then, we'll have supper and you can take me home."

Common Word "Fiasco"
Borrowed From Italy
The word "fiasco" has become current coin in English speech, though it is doubtful if many who use it know that it is an Italian word meaning bottle. Several accounts have been given of why an immediate failure is called a bottle. A correspondent of "Notes and Queries" wrote in 1863: "Some years since, Signor V. Pistrucci, professor of Italian at King's college, gave me the following derivation. A gentleman visiting an Italian glass manufactory was struck with the apparent simplicity of the work, so he asked permission to try his hand at glass-blowing, but found the operation more difficult than it looked and the only thing he was able to produce was the common flask (fiasco). The amused workmen crowded around him, and greeted each successive failure with laughter and the cry of 'Altro fiasco! altro fiasco!' (Another fiasco.)—Ex-change.

UNPRECEDENTED BANK CLEARINGS

New York, Dec. 14.—Traders who have been waiting for a reaction and were particularly confident that a good sized setback would be seen before the middle of the month were doomed to disappointment by the action of the market at the start of the new week.

Speculative sentiment was buoyed by the indications of unprecedented bank clearings and the longest series of million car freight loadings in the history of the railroads.

Atlantic Coast Line, C. and O. and other standard investment issues headed the forward movement among the rails, while the character of the leaders in the industrial list was also impressive with General Electric, American Can, particularly well bought.

In fact nothing in the day's transactions afforded anything but encouragement and the bears were forced to cover their contracts on a rapidly rising price scale.

The market closed irregular.

Land of Dead Heroes

Avalon was, according to an old Celtic legend, an earthly paradise, existing somewhere in the seas west of Europe, to which great heroes were carried after death. It was called, also, the Land of the Blessed.

Poetical Nickname

King David was known as the Sweet Singer of Israel.

Solving the Hard Problems

THE work of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in developing cracking processes is outstanding among the many contributions it has made to the consumer of gasoline.

The importance of these processes is emphasized when it is known that they have increased the yield of gasoline, from a given amount of crude, by more than 50%.

During the past few years the consumption of gasoline has increased as follows:

	Gasoline Consumed	Cars Registered
1922	5.3 Billion Gals.	12.2 Million
1923	6.6 " "	15.0 " "
1924	7.7 " "	17.5 " "

Statistics for 1924 show that crude production amounted to 40.7 barrels per registered car, as against 47 barrels per registered car for 1923, whereas, for comparative purposes, we point out that, in 1913 the production per registered car was 194 barrels.

Despite the overflowing wells in the Southwest and particularly in California, during the past few years, the supply of gasoline would not have kept pace with the automobile manufacturers' production, had it not been for the advanced work done by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in developing cracking processes which stretched the available supply of crude oil to meet the demand for gasoline.

This Company did not keep its cracking processes for its exclusive use, but leased them on an equitable basis to other refiners that they also might do their part in keeping the supply of gasoline equal to the demand.

To have kept its cracking processes to itself would have meant huge profits to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), but it chose rather to pass on these benefits to the consuming public.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) combines expert business management with maximum technical skill.

This Company's technicians protect the quality of its oils and gasoline and assure you of an abundant supply at fair prices.

Expert business management stops losses and reduces expenses—while its supreme efficiency puts gasoline and oils easily within the reach of every motorist of the Middle West.
